Osteopathic Medicine (DO)

Thursday, May 21, 4-7pm

UCLA Career Center, Third Floor, Conference Room

According to the American Osteopathic Association, doctors of osteopathic medicine (DOs) are among the fastest growing in health care, by year 2016 more than 100,000 will be practicing medicine, and about 60% specialize in primary care fields such as family medicine and general internal medicine. Join us and learn that:

- Using a ‘whole person’ approach with preventive medicine and a comprehensive treatment plan is the DO’s specialization
- DOs receive additional training on the musculoskeletal system and osteopathic manipulative treatment
- There are approximately 30 osteopathic medical colleges in about 40 locations in the U.S.

Admissions Panel (subject to change):
- Tania Arana, PhD, Assistant Dean for Student Affairs and Admissions, Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine
- Ronald Berezniak, PhD, FAODME, Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs, Lake Erie College of Osteopathic Medicine-Bradenton, Florida
- Susan M. Hanson, MS, Executive Director of Admissions, Western University of Health Sciences
- James Walter, Director of Admissions, Midwestern University

Professional Panel (subject to change):
- Courtney Mizuhara-Cheng, DO, Comprehensive Health Integration
- Manuel Dizon, DO, UCLA Arthur Ashe Student Health and Wellness Center
- Payam Hakimi, DO, Body of Harmony, Institute of Health and Healing
- Bobby Nourani, DO, Vital Osteopathy
- Michael Schreiber, DO, Medical Director, iOne Beverly Hills Plastic Surgery

Test Preparation
- Kevin Sun, Marketing Manager, Kaplan Test Prep

Army Medical School Scholarship Program

Register today at career.ucla.edu/JumpStart

The JumpStart Series© is a fee-based program open to currently registered UCLA students. The $20 fee will be charged to your BAR account upon registration. We are located in the Strathmore Building near parking structure eight. Questions: marketing@career.ucla.edu