For graduate students in humanities, social science and STEM disciplines, The Versatile PhD can help you to identify and prepare for non-academic careers. Others can also take advantage of this comprehensive service.

Join a Supportive Community!
- Discover you are not alone
- Make friends and get moral support
- Learn about interesting alternative careers
- Meet PhDs outside the academy
- Identify your transferable skills
- Get great advice from experienced people

Learn from the Premium Content!
- Detailed profiles of interesting careers
- Career Autobiographies by PhDs who left the academy
- Resumes and Cover Letters that are real and resulted in a PhD or ABD getting his or her first non-academic job!

Completely Confidential!
- Members only: only registered members may read or post
- You control what people know about you
- Excellent “Code of Conduct” that people actually obey
- Your advisor will never know!

A free benefit from the UCLA Career Center

For Currently Registered UCLA Students

To access, please visit career.ucla.edu/VersatilePhD

Once you become proactive in The Versatile PhD module, you will not be worried about the job market, your career, or what happens next. So check it out today!

PhD and Master’s Students

Please note: Graduate students are welcome to take advantage of any of the standard career counseling and same day appointment opportunities listed at career.ucla.edu/CareerCounseling

Career Center Drop-In Counseling at the Graduate Student Resource Center (Student Activities Center, B11) vary each quarter. Please go to career.ucla.edu/CareerCounseling for the current schedule. Thank you.